PROGRAM

A DAY OF CELEBRATION, INSPIRATION AND EMPOWERMENT

AHRI's International Women's Day event recognises the women who have come before, laid the groundwork and fought for the rights of all, and inspires us to make changes in our workplaces.

In 2021, the event will be held over lunchtime (Australian Eastern time) and features an interview with an international speaker and a follow-up panel session to discuss the important theme of sexual harassment in the workplace.

THE PROGRAM

TUESDAY 9 MARCH, 2021

TIME	SESSION
12:00PM – 12:15PM	Official Opening
12:15PM – 1.20PM SESSION 1	Take Your Power Back: In conversation with Gretchen Carlson Interviewed by Leigh Sales Sexual harassment is an epidemic across the world. It's a horrifying reality for millions of women, when all they want to do every day is go to work. Sexual harassment isn't about sex - it's about power. Gretchen Carlson is a fierce, fearless and internationally recognised advocate for women's rights, whose bold actions against Fox News Chairman Roger Ailes helped pave the way for the global #MeToo movement and was dramatised in the 2019 movie Bombshell . Join Gretchen and award-winning Australian journalist Leigh Sales in this intimate, thought-provoking and challenging interview that delves into the biases, prejudices and harassment that women face every day, when all they want to do is go to work and be their whole selves.
1.25PM – 2.25PM SESSION 2	Expert panel discussion: Creating a culture of respect and equality Facilitated by Leigh Sales Equality in the workplace means taking a step in the right direction. That direction is creating psychologically-safe workplaces, where everyone feels able to speak up, stand up, and speak out against any harassment they see in their workplaces. This exclusive panel session, facilitated by Leigh Sales, includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Kate Jenkins, Sex Discrimination Commissioner, Australian Human Rights Commission• Libby Lyons, Director, Workplace Gender Equality Agency• Marian Baird AO, Professor of Gender and Employment Relations, The University of Sydney• Miriam Silva, Director, CEDA
2:25PM – 2:30PM	Closing Comments
